Introduction

With the Divine Mother's grace, an elaborate Śrī Cakra pūjā vidhānam was written in Tamil in 1984 - 85. This was subsequently revised and re-edited last year, with a view to rectifying errors and to facilitate the correct pronunciation of mantras and slokas by means of numerical subscripts. This effort was well received by the devotees of Śrī Vidyā as a comprehensive and useful resource on Śrī Vidyā.

Devotees, especially in the Western countries and those who cannot read the Tamil language were anxious to have the book transliterated into English. This year the English version of the book has been brought out with the help of Smt. Gnanapurani Madhvanath (Guruguhāmbā) and Dr. U. Madhvanath (Kriyānandā). We are happy to acknowledge our good fortune in getting the assistance and guidance of Śrī K. Parameshwaran, fondly known as 'Ramesh' to fellow devotees of Śrī Devi. Śrī Ramesh (Ātmānandā), a disciple of Śrī Yajanānandā who instantaneously formed a rapport with Caitanyānandā, Gurugu hāmba and Kriyānanda, has the brilliance and the clarity of vision to navigate the sometimes choppy seas of mantra śāstra. His guidance in the production of this volume is of Himalayan proportions. The devotees of Śrī Vidyā are fortunate to have him. The devotees of Śrī Prāṇaśakti are indeed blessed by his dynamic presence in their midst.

Different fonts have been employed in the typesetting to distinguish between - the instructions to the devotee while performing a pūjā, the general text for use in an elaborate pūjā and the most essential parts of the pūjā for use of devotees with time constraints and for devotees who wish to perform the Śrī Cakra Pūjā on a regular basis.

The appendix has been expanded with additions such as Navagraha astottara śata nāmāvalih, Khadgamālā stotra, Diksamputa nyāsah, ghana pathas and Daśāvatara mantras. Some mudras which were left out in the Tamil version have been added and a glossary of essential non - English words used has been included.

We are grateful to Sri S. Thiyagarajan of Maruthi Business Systems who, with commendable enthusiasm has done an excellent job with respect to typesetting details and to Sri G. Lakshminarayanan of Maruti Graphics for his unstinting co-operation in completing the printing and colour plating in the minimum possible time.

Introduction to the First Edition (in Tamil)

There are many Tamil devotees living in Eelam, Singapore, Western countries, Africa, and Australia who worship Rājarājeśvari and subscribe to the tradition of the kaulas. In these countries though they may have a desire to perform the rituals as prescribed, due to time constraints they cannot sit two to three hours at a stretch on a regular basis, without being interrupted. Manuals and instructions for rituals that have to be performed with great diligence and care were being written in a short and abridged form. In such a climate due to the Divine Mother's will, the desire arose in the author to write a detailed and elaborate manual for the ritual of the Śrī yantra pūjā. When our esteemed guru was living with us in our community, due to his selfless and extreme compassion towards devotees, very rare and detailed methods for various rituals arose from his meditational experiences and touched his disciples. I have included some of these rituals in the appropriate places. The mantras given in the pūjā for the lamp, had appeared in the form of the fifteen syllabled Śrī Pañcadaśākṣari directly during a meditational experience of the author.

For those who cannot for various reasons find the time or the opportunity to sit in one place, and perform the entire ritual, reading this book from start to finish will yield the result of having performed a complete Śrī yantra pūjā. For those who read this book in its entirety it has the capacity to unconsciously propel them into a state of deep meditation. Perform the ātma pranapratistha given in the section called Pranapratistha first. By doing this, the Devi is invoked in the lotus of the heart and the benefit of having installed the 51 letters of the Sanskrit alphabets in the various regions of the body whose form is that of the Śrī yantra, would have reached the devotee. Once this has been done, begin reading the book from beginning to end. Performing the Devi Navāvarana pūjā in this manner is referred to as "antar yāgam". There are references in the "Lalitā Sahasra nāmam" in the mantra "antar mukha samā rādhya" to confirm this statement.

Both the invocation of the Devi on the Śrī yantra and the performance of the 64 divine services (catussasti upacā ras) to the Devi have been combined with the 32 stanzas - split in half - of the Śrī Sūkta. By doing it in this fashion, a double benefit of having chanted the Śrī Sūkta and the 64 upacāras to the Devi will reach the devotee. When completing the worship of the deities that are present in the four corners of the Śrī yantra - caturāyatanam - the Devi should be worshipped in Her glorious form as Lalitā Mahā Tripurasundari in the bindu of the Śrī yantra. The mantras included for this purpose in the form of the Kadi Vidyā Pañca Daśākṣari were directly revealed to the author on the seventh day during Śāradā Navaratri in 1984. These mantras have very deep meanings and are being published here for the first time. The sixteenth name 'Caitanya Lalitā Mahā Tripurasundari' denotes the ṛsi mudra.

The exquisitely beautiful form of the Śrī Devi in the form of Lalita can be experienced as appearing in the dahara kāśa of the Sādhaka during this pūjā. When the ritual is performed mentally, the sound issuing forth - originating from the heart - lotus and touching the crown of the head in the brahmarandhra should be concentrated upon and one should be able to hear one's own primary mantra in the unstruck sound. May the devotees be able to perform the navāvarana pūjā with a one - pointed mind and derive the benefits of Sārūpya, Sāmīpya, and Sāyujya siddhi. This is my prayer.

Introduction to the Second Edition (in Tamil)

At a time when the Tamils living in the various parts of the world who desired to worship the Divine Mother of the Universe in the form of Śrī Rājarājeśvari pursued very short rituals, an elaborate pūja vidhanam was written in Tamil in 1984 - 85 and offered to the Devi during Śaradā Navaratri with generous assistance from Śrī Sastīśā nandanatha of the Śrī Rājarājeśvari Pitham, Toronto. Due to time constraints, typographical errors and some short - comings in the main body of the ritual remained in the original work. Moreover, the notations for correct pronunciation of Sanskrit could not be included in this first edition. This second edition seeks to remedy those very short - comings and it appears this year. A serious effort to eliminate the typing and other errors and a wish to adopt the system of using subscripts near the Tamil letters to enable those who are not familiar with Sanskrit and the Devanagari script to know and learn the correct pronunciation of the various mantras and methods of pūjā were some of the reasons for bringing out this edition. Moreover, the ten years that have passed since the appearance of the first edition have seen, various meditational experiences culminate in litanies like the yajnaphala stotram, Amṛtānanda Aṣtottara śata namavalih etc. These became the seeds for the second edition.

Since this book contains a very elaborate ritual, it would undoubtedly take many hours to perform it following the book word for word. For the benefit of those who desire to perform the great yajña called navāvarana puja but are constrained by time, the main skeleton and the most important portion of the puja have been included in bold letters.

In the appendix, aṣtottara śata nāmavalis, the sūktas that need to be chanted during abhiṣeka like the Rudram, a separate section on the hand gestures known as the Mudra Vidhānam and life sketches of the teachers and the gurus in the lineage who follow the Dattātreya Sāmpradāyam have been included in this edition along with an elaborate method of drawing a Śri Cakra.

Beginning with 1976 and originating in the Republic of Zambia every year a blossom has been offered to the Śrī Devi during Śarada Navaratri. In that series the first edition of this book was the ninth flower that was offered to the Devi in 1985. It is the same book that has been expanded for the benefit of the devotees, and it is hoped that by following this, the devotees will be recipients of the Devi's Grace. In this context, due to the total grace of the Devi and as a result of total and complete dedication to Śrī Vidya the late Śrī. Najan and his dynamic wife

Smt. Lalitāmbal have been for many years compiling rare and well researched books in Tamil and have thus performed a great service to the devotees of Śrī Vidya. Smt. Lalitāmbal continues to perform this service to this day. The books written by Śrī. Najan have without doubt and without exaggeration encouraged the author in undertaking such an endeavour.

The devotees of Śrī Vidyā cannot forget the dedicated services of Smt. Gnanapurani Madhvanath who has laboured for over two years making corrections and refining the flow of Sanskrit and editing the first edition with the untiring help of Śrī. Madhvanath, who has worked behind the scenes to bring this edition to press. The Śrī Devi with the name Śrī Sangita yogini occupies their hearts and their house. That She would bless them abundantly is absolutely clear. Smt. Gnanapurani is the elder daughter of the genius in Tamil Śrī Chengalvaraya Pillai. The diagrams for the various yantras were drawn by Sriganesh, Śrī Don Mcanna, Śrī Kartik and Śrī Raghavan.

It is the hope of the author that this book would be found useful for daily worship, for special occasions and for elaborate pujas. If there are mistakes in this book it is my humble request to the devotees of Śrī Vidya that they treat them as mine. It is the author's prayer to the Divine Mother that those who helped in various ways to bring this edition to fruition be blessed abundantly by the Dēvi. Finally my grateful thanks are due to Mr. S.Thiyagarajan of the Maruthi Business Systems, who in a short time has been able to complete the typesetting and to Maruti Graphics of Madras for printing the text with color plates and for giving the book the final shape.

It was Thursday night, the fourth day of the Tamil month "aipasi" in the year 1979. Our Guriji was to give mantropadeśa to me and my wife the next day. This saṅkalpa of rare beauty arose out of his meditation that night, and is being published here for the first time. The saṅkalpa is intrinsically in the form of a mantramala, and has the ability to propel the sadhaka into a state of deep meditation by stirring his or her consciousness at the heart lotus.

15. Praṇapratiṣtha

bindu, trikoṇa, ṣaṭkoṇa, vṛtta maṇḍala

Draw the mandala shown in the figure. Place a vessel filled with pancakavya on the mandala, and recite "Haum" 108 times. (Pancakavya is a mixture of milk, curds, ghee, cow dung, cow's urine - the latter two may be replaced by vibhuti and turmeric). Immerse the yantra in the pancakavya while reciting the praṇava mantra. Place the yantra in another vessel and perform abhiseka with pancamṛta and offer dhupam. Perform abhiseka with milk, offer fruit as naivedyam and offer dhupam. Repeat the same with curds, honey, vibhuti, attar (rose essence) etc. Finally perform abhiseka with water from kalaśas which had been placed over a layer of rice, established in the eight directions and energised by 108 recitations of the mula mantra. All the above abhisekas must be performed with the recitation of the mula mantra. Dry the yantra with a piece of silk and place it on the pīṭham such that the apex of the trikona points towards the sadhaka. Touch the yantra and recite the yantra gayatri 108 times,

4 - Ōm yantra rājaya vidmahē mahā yantrāya dhīmahi | tanno yantraḥ pracōdayāt ||

PĀTRĀ SĀDANA

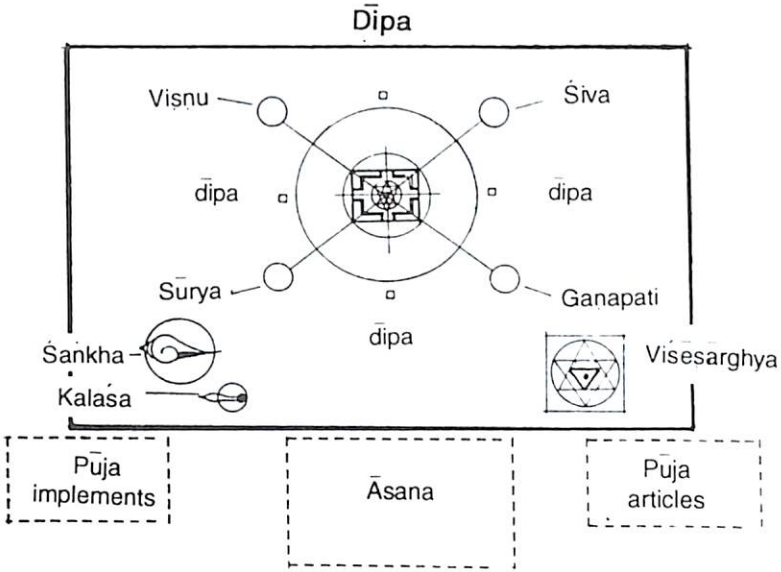
Initiation into pancadaśakṣari or saubhagya pancadaśakṣari mantra through a guru is a prerequisite for performing the nava varaṇa puja in the sri yantra. Those initiated into ṣoḍasi or maha ṣoḍasi upadesa may include Turiyamba in the puja.

The sri yantra should be placed on a raised platform (piṭham) and the piṭham placed in a receptacle to facilitate viseṣarghya tarpaṇa.



If a sri yantra is in the house, the minimum that a sadhaka should do is to offer a flower, a fruit or milk as naivedyam and karpura nirajanam. While performing tarpaṇa or using the uttaraṇi, only the thumb, middle and ring fingers should be used. The use of the index and little fingers should be avoided.

The apex of the last triangle of the śri yantra should face the sadhaka. The kalaśa should be to the left of the sadhaka and the conch behind it. (see figure).

Viśeṣarghya patra and its base should be to the right of the sadhaka. The conch and viśeṣarghya patra should not be moved till the end of the puja. It is preferable that the kalasa and the viṣesarghya patra be made of silver. However, a devoted sadhaka may use any vessel within his means. Japa must be a constant under current in the sadhaka's heart whether or not the sadhaka performs Śri yantra puja. As a consequence of this japa the sadhaka will experience a flame extending from the muladhara to the anahata, a second flame from the anahata to the ajna and a third flame from the ajna touching the brahmarandhra. (These are verily vagbhava, kamaraja and sakti kuṭas). In addition the sadhaka will "hear" the anahata sound continuously.

The navavaraṇa puja is a mahayajna that is beyond the reach of even the devas. Performing a navavaraṇa puja is equivalent to performing one thousand aśvamedha yajnas. While performing the navavaraṇa puja on a śri yantra, Sri Rajarajeśvari who resides in the śri yantra that is the sadhaka's śarira, (body) should be invoked and worshipped. The unity of śri devi and the self should be experienced.

The essence of the navavaraṇa puja is the attainment of the state of samadhi even beyond the citkalananda experience in the cidakaśa, having realised that the worshipper, the worshipped and the act of worship are identical.

29. Kalaśa puja

Vardhani kalaśa sthapana

To the left of the sadaka a mandala consisting of a bindu, trikoṇa, ṣaṭkoṇa, vṛtta, caturatmaka should be drawn with the matsya mudra using a mixture of kumkum, sandalpaste and gandha.

A pañca patra with an uttaraṇi should be filled with water to which aromatic herbs such as cardamom, turmeric and kumkum have been added. The vessel should be decorated with dots of sandal paste and kumkum. The avakuṇthana mudra, astraya phaṭ and jvalini mudra ("ram" ten times), should be shown. The vessel should be closed with the right hand such that the uttaraṇi is held between the middle and ring fingers while reciting,

bindu, trikōṇa, ṣaṭkōṇa, vṛtta maṇḍala

4 - am agni maṇḍalāya namaḥ (Recite six times and worship the six angles of the saṭkoṇa)

4 - agnim dūtam vṛṇimahē hōtāram viśva vēdasam I asya yajñasya sukratum I rām - rīm - rūm raim - raum - rah ramalavarayūm agni maṇḍalaya namah

Place the kalasa (vessel) on the maṇḍala.

4 - um - sūrya maṇḍalāya namaḥ (Recite twelve times and worship with flowers.)

4 - āsatyēna rajasā vartamānō niveśayannamṛtam martyanca hiraṇyayēna savitā rathēnā dēvoyāti

Bend the middle and ring fingers in, and touch the ridge of the kalaśa at three points with the thumb, first and little fingers, reciting,

4 - mam - sōma maṇḍalāya namaḥ sixteen times.

4 - āpyāyasva samētu tē viśvataḥ sōma vṛṣṇiyam I bhavā vājasya saṅgathē II sām - sīm - sūm - saim - saum - saḥ samalavarayūm sōma maṇḍalāya namaḥ

Close the mouth of the vessel with the right hand and recite
Ōm varuṇāsanāya namaḥ I varuṇa mūrtayē namaḥ

4 - Kalaśasya mukhē viṣṇuḥ kaṇṭhē rudraḥ samāśritaḥ I mūlē tatra sthitō brahmā madhyē mātṛganāḥ smṛtāḥ II

Recite the mula mantra eight times, show dhenu mudra, and sprinkle water from the kalasa on the puja articles and on yourself.

30. Samanyarghya Sthapana

Śankha puja

Draw a maṇḍala as shown in the figure consisting of a bindu, trikoṇa, ṣaṭkoṇa, vṛtta, and caturasra, to the right of the kalasa, with a mixture of sandalwood paste and kumkum to which water from the kalasa has been added. Offer worship with akṣatas at the four corners agni, isana, asura and vayu, (1-4) at the centre (5) and in the four directions (6) east, south, west and north, reciting as follows,

4 - aim hṛdayaya namaḥ hṛdaya śakti śrī padukam pujayami namaḥ

4 - klim śirase svaha śiraḥ śakti śri padukam pujayami namaḥ

4 - sauḥ śikhayai vaṣaṭ śikha śakti śri padukam pujayami namaḥ

4 - klim netratrayaya vauṣaṭ netra śakti śri padukam pujayami namaḥ

4 - sauḥ astraya phaṭ astra śakti śri padukam pujayami namaḥ

Offer worship (clock-wise) in the ṣaṭkoṇa as follows :

4 - aim kaeīla hrīm hṛdayāya namaḥ hṛdaya śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - klīm hasakahalahrīm śirase svāhā / śiraḥ śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - sauḥ sakalahrīm śikhāyai vaṣaṭ / śikhā śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - aim kaeīlahrīm kavacāya hum / kavaca śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - klīm hasakahalahrīm netratrayāya vauṣaṭ / netra śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - sauḥ sakalahrīm astrāya phaṭ / astra śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

In the trikoṇa, offer worship at the three corners and at the centre as follows :

4 - aim ka ei la hrīm namaḥ (at 1)
4 - klīm ha sa ka ha la hrīm namaḥ (at 2)
4 - sauḥ sa ka la hrīm namaḥ (at 3)
4 - kaeīlahrīm hasakahalahrīm sakalahrīm namaḥ (at the centre) - eight times

Take the (adhara) base for the śankha in your hand, and sprinkle water from the kalaśa on it, reciting

4 - aim hraḥ astrāya phaṭ

4 - am agni maṇḍalāya dharma prada daśa kalā tmane śrī Mahā tripurasundaryaḥ samānya rghya pātradhārāya namaḥ

Place the base on the maṇḍala.

4 - agnim dūtam vṛṇī mahe hotāram viśva vedasam asya yajñasya sukratum rām - rīm - rūm - raim - raum - raḥ ramalavarayum agni maṇḍalāya namaḥ

Invoke and worship the ten agni kalas in the ten parts of the agni mandala (the base).

4 - yam dhūmrārciṣe namaḥ
4 - ram ūṣmāyai namaḥ
4 - lam jvalinyai namaḥ
4 - vam jvālinyai namaḥ
4 - śam visphulinginyai namaḥ

4 - aum aṅgadāyai namaḥ

4 - am pūrṇāyai namaḥ

4 - aḥ pūrṇāmṛtāyai namaḥ

Offer worship with flowers to the samanyarghya in the agni, isana, asura, vayu directions, at the center and in the four directions with the ṣaḍanga mantra.

4 - ka ei la hrīm hṛdayāya namaḥ hṛdaya śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

31. Viśeṣārghya Sthāpana

The base for viśeṣārghya should be made of copper or silver. When a silver vessel containing viśeṣārghya is placed on a copper base and worshipped with recitations of mantras, very subtle electromagnetic waves are produced. When tarpaṇa of viśeṣārghya is performed over an energised yantra these waves render the thought waves powerless, quiten the mind, regulate the breath and kindle the anahata dhvani creating an atmosphere in which the devotee can experience his identity with Śri Devi as established in the mahavakya "tattvamasi"

Sāmānyārghyodakena taddakṣiṇataḥ bindu trikoṇa Ṣaṭkona vṛtta caturaśratmakam maṇḍalam vilikhya.

With the matsya mudrā draw a maṇḍala consisting of bindu, trikoṇa, ṣatkoṇa, vritta and caturasra to the right of the śankha, write "im" at the center and offer worship as before at the agni, īsana, asura, vāyu corners, at the center and in the four directions, reciting

4 - aim kaeīlahrīm hṛdayāya namaḥ / hṛdaya śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - klīm hasakahalahrīm śirase svāhā / śiraḥ śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - ka ēi la hrīm ha sa ka ha la hrīm sa ka la hrīm namaḥ (center)

4 - aim hraḥ astrāya phaṭ / iti ādhāram prakṣālya

perform avakuṇthaṇa on the base for the viśeṣarghya patra and sprinkle samanyarghya on it.

4 - aim ka ēi la hrīm am agni maṇḍalāya dharmaprada daśa kalātmanē śrī Mahā Tripurasundaryāḥ viśēṣārghya pātrādhārāya namaḥ / iti ādhāram samsthāpya.

Place the base on the maṇḍala.

Establish the agni maṇḍala in the base as before and worship with flowers and akṣatas.

4 - agnim dūtam vṛṇī mahē hōtāram viśva vēdasam asya yajñasya sukratum rām - rīm - rūm - raim - raum - raḥ - ramalavarayūm agni maṇḍalāya namaḥ

4 - ṭam ḍham dhāriṇyai namaḥ
4 - ṭham ḍam kṣamāyai namaḥ

4 - mūlamantra / three times.

Prepare pañcāmṛta - a mixture of honey, bananas, raisins, clarified butter (ghee) and sugar candy. Recite the mula mantra while adding each ingredient in the viśeṣārghya patra.

Viśeṣārghya amṛta consists of cow's milk to which sugar, saffron, bezoar (gorocana), musk (kasturi), camphor (edible) and honey have been added. Energise the milk by reciting the mūla mantra before pouring it into the vessel.

4 - Sauḥ sa ka la hrīm mam sōma maṇḍalāya kāmaprada ṣōḍaśa kalātmane śrī Mahā Tripura sundaryāḥ viśēṣārghyāmṛtāya namaḥ / tatvamudrayā gṛhīta nā garakhaṇḍam nikṣipya.

While filling the viśeṣarghya patra with the amṛta, recite the matṛkās (akṣaras) am to kṣam and kṣam to am. Pour the amṛta into the vessel such that it falls over a piece of ginger held just above the vessel with the thumb and ring finger (tatva mudrā) of the left hand.

4 - *āpyāyasva sametu te viśvataḥ soma vṛṣṇiyam bhavā vājasya saṅgathe I sām - sīm - sūm - saim - saum - saḥ samalavarayūm soma maṇḍalāya namaḥ II

Mentally establish a 16 petalled lotus in the viśeṣarghya patra and invoke the candra kalās in an anticlockwise direction. Add a little honey with each name while reciting the following :

4 - am amṛtāyai namaḥ
4 - ām mānadāyai namaḥ
4 - im puṣāyai namaḥ
4 - īm tuṣṭyai namaḥ
4 - um puṣṭyai namaḥ
4 - ūm ratyai namaḥ
4 - ṛm dhṛtyai namaḥ
4 - ṝm śaśinyai namaḥ
4 - lm candrikāyai namaḥ
4 - ḷm kāntyai namaḥ

4 - ēm jyōtsnāyai namaḥ
4 - aim śriyai namaḥ
4 - ōm prītyai namaḥ
4 - aum aṅgadāyai namaḥ
4 - am pūrṇāyai namaḥ
4 - aḥ pūrṇāmṛtāyai namaḥ
4 - ōm jum saḥ svāhā. Repeat 8 times.
4 - mūla mantra - 3 times.

Use a flower to draw a triangle at the centre of visesarghya and write the 16 letters 'am' to 'aḥ' along its rightside, 'kam' to 'tam' above and 'tham' to 'sam' along its left side as shown in the figure. Inside the triangle write 'ham', 'laṁ' and 'kṣam' at the corners. All the 51 letters are thus represented. Write the three kutas of the pancadasi in the clockwise direction outside the triangle along its sides. At the center of the trikona "im" which represents the kamakala is written. To its left and right 'ham' and 'saḥ' should be written.

The intent of the above is to establish the feeling that the visesarghya amṛta is nothing other than Devi's (svarupa) form.

Offer worship in the trikoṇa drawn :

4 - ka ēi la hrīm ha saka ha la hrīm sa ka la hrīm namaḥ (at the center)
4 - ka ēi la hrīm namaḥ
4 - hasakahala hrīm namaḥ
4 - sa ka la hrīm namaḥ

at the three angles of the triangle in the anticlockwise direction starting at the bottom. Then draw a circle and a ṣatkona around the triangle and worship the anga devatas as before.

4 - ka ēi la hrīm hṛdayāya namaḥ hṛdaya śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - hasakahala hrīm śirasē svāhā śiraḥ śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - sakala hrīm śikhāyai vaṣaṭ śikhā śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

4 - kaeīla hrīm kavacāya hum kavaca śakti śrī pādukām pujayāmi namaḥ

Guru patra

4 - Mūlam - gurupāduka (Śrī guru)
4 - Mūlam - gurupāduka (parama guru)
4 - Mūlam - gurupāduka (parameṣṭhi guru)
4 - Mūlam - gurupāduka (Divya guru)
4 - Mūlam - gurupāduka (guru parampara)

Śrī śivācārya varyādyām śaṅkarācārya madhyamām asmadācārya paryantām vande guru paramparām.

Set aside a silver cup as the guru patra. With each mantra above, put a small quantity of viśeṣarghya into the gurupatra. If the guru is present, offer it to him.

Ātma patra

4 - mūlam - (3 times) I Ātmapātre Kiṅcid viśeṣārghyam uddhṛtya I Mūlādhāre vālagramātram anādivāsanā rūpendhana prajvalitam kuṇḍalinyadhiṣṭhitam cidagni maṇḍalam dhyātvā.

Take some viśeṣarghya in the ātma patra and reciting "Kuṇḍalinyadhiṣṭhita cidagni maṇḍalāya namaḥ" imagine a homa being performed in the cidagni of the kundalini. Take an uttarani full of the amṛta in the left hand, pour it into your right palm, cover it with the left hand and recite.

4 - mūlam - (3 times).

4 - mūlam - puṇyam juhomi svāhā I
4 - mūlam - pāpam juhomi svāhā I

4 - mūlam - adharmam juhomi svāhā I
4 - mūlam - 3 times.
4 - adharmam juhomi vauṣaṭ

4 - itaḥ pūrvam prāṇa buddhi deha dharmādhikāratah jāgrat svapna suṣuptyavasthāsu manasā vācā karmaṇā hastābhyām padbhyām udareṇa śiśnā yatsmṛtam yaduktam yatkṛtam tatsarvam brahmā rpaṇam bhavatu svāhā iti pūrṇāhutim vibhāvya - which means that all our sins and virtuous actions, all good and evil have been offered as purnahuti into the homa.

4 - Guru paduka mantra (once). Śrī guru, parama guru, parameṣṭhi guru divya guru śaranam.

4 - Ārdram jvalati jyotirahamasmi, jyotir jvalati brahmahamasmi I yo ahamasmi, brahma hamasmi, ahamasmi, brahmahamasmi, ahame vaham mam juhomi svaha II

With the ring finger of the left hand, take a drop of the amṛta held in the right palm and place it on the sahasrara. Take the right hand around the face and drink the amṛta.

4 - Viśeṣarghya pātrat kiñcit kṣiram karana kalaśe nikṣipet.

Add a little bit of the amṛta to the samanyarghya and vardhani kalasa.

It is imperative that the devotee not move from the asana after doing the nyasas and sankalpa. However under certain circumstances it may be difficult to follow this dictum. For instance, when we first began to perform this puja, we decided to perform it on 90 consecutive days in order to familiarize ourselves with the mantras. We were advised by our guru that if need be, we could interrupt the puja after the śrikrama was completed. However unless absolutely necessary one should avoid interrupting the puja and getting up from the asana. The sankha, viśeṣarghya patra and the śri yantra once established should not be moved till the puja is completed. Puja may be restarted with the Vighneśvara dhyana "Śuklambaradharam" and the guru paduka mantra recited atleast once. The mula mantra japa must be performed 108 times with ṛṣi, nyasa etc. Then the puja can be continued and completed.

Ātma samstham manaḥ kṛtvā na kincidapi cintayet ||

Let the mind get absorbed in the thought of the atma and not entertain any other thoughts. This statement can be found in most books but putting it into practice is very difficult. Concentrate on your heart center and when the external sounds subside, the anahata sound will begin to be heard. For this purpose our ancestors sought out quiet places for meditation. It is not an easy task to let the mind get absorbed in the atma. Nevertheless with some quietitude it is possible to listen to the anahata sound. When this happens and you begin to hear the sound, attempt to control your breathing and concentrate on the anahata cakra, located approximately 1½ inches to the right, inside the rib cage. When the mind is absorbed in the sound emanating from the anahata cakra, it gets stilled. With some practice the breathing will become normal and shallow. With time one achieves a state of keval kumbhaka. Though difficult initially, it will become natural and easier in course of time with practice.

Mangaḷāratrikam

Draw an eight petalled lotus with a mixture of kumkum and sandaḷ paste on a plate made of silver.

Prepare nine triangular lamps (in the shape of a damaru) out of rice or wheat flour to which milk and sugar have been added. Arrange these on the petals and at the centre of the lotus. Place and light a wick in each lamp to the recitation of the mantra "Hrim". The wicks should be anointed with camphor and ghee. If time does not permit the above procedure draw triangles with turmeric and kumkum on a plate, and light trianglar cotton pieces dipped in ghee with the recitation of "Hrim".

4 - Śrīm - hrīm - glūm - slūm - mlūm - plūm - nlūm - hrīm - śrīm iti navākṣarī ratneśvarī mantrayā abhimantryaḥ

Touch the plate with the thumb, middle, and ring fingers, offer akṣatas, show cakra and yoni mudras. Then show the eka dipam to Devi. Lift the plate with both hands and recite the mula mantra thrice.

Perform arati nine times, reciting,

4 - Jātavēdasē sunavāma sōma marātiyatō nidahāti vēdaḥ /

While meditating on and worshipping Gaṇapati one's concentration should be centered on the Mūlādhāra. Contract the muscles around the mūlādhāra and svādhiṣṭhāna while reciting "śrim - hrim - klim - glaum - gam - gaṇapatayē" and relax them while uttering "sarva janam mē vaśamānaya svāhā". This practice will awaken the dormant kundalini and set Her in action. Without this practice, even thousands of recitations of the mantra are ineffective. In śrī yantra pūjā, the realisation that the worshipper, worshipped and the worship are one, is very essential. Whatever upacāras are offered to Dēvi should be carried out to oneself as well.

37. Nitya Devi Yajanam

Thiti nityas are aspects of Śri Devi and attain their śakti by internalized upasana. When the inner consciousness is awakened, it grows of its own accord. There are fifteen nitya kala devis from amavasya (new moon) to paurnami (full moon). The inner consciousness blooms with a new kala (digit of the moon) with each passing day and shines as Lalita Parameśvari with all sixteen kalas on paurnami. This is the essence of the Thiti Nitya puja. The nityas are to be worshipped by going anticlockwise around the innermost triangle starting with the angle at the bottom.

Details of Thiti nitya puja and their Dhyana slokas are found in 'Tantraraja Tantra'. Further details can be obtained from Yogavasiṣtha, Vaśiṣtha samhita, and Sanantana samhita. While worshipping each nitya devi it is beneficial to include the yantra in the puja. If the yantras are not available, mentally visualize and meditate on them.

After worshipping Lalita Maha Tripurasundari in the bindu, the nityakala devis, and finally Mahanitya as described, recite the mantra of the nityakala devi pertaining to that day sixteen times.

38. Guru Maṇḍala Arcana

While worshipping the aṣṭakoṇa, concentrate on the paraguru svarupa at the bindu and the trikoṇa. In the trapezium above the last triangle imagine three parallel lines akin to the three bands of vibhuti worn on the forehead. Worship the five divya gurus, in the first line, the ten siddha gurus in the middle line and in the last line the nine manava gurus. Worship the śrī guru along with the manava gurus, the parama guru with the siddha gurus and the parameṣṭhi guru with the divya gurus. It is best to visualize the three lines as strings of brightly shining stars against a drop of clusters of stars. The guru maṇḍala pūjā given below is meant for those who have received ṣoḍaśi and mahaṣoḍaśi. Those who have received pañcadaśakṣari and saubhagya pañcadaśakṣari may worship their guru maṇḍala given in the appendix.

39. Guru Smaraṇam

Before starting the Navavaraṇa pūjā seeking the grace of the Dēvi invoked on the Śrī yantra, we should worship the guru and guru parampara.

At this point, perform the upacāras dhupam, dipam, naivedyam and karpūra nīrājanam to the guru parampara (guru lineage) and then proceed with the āvaraṇa puja.

Āvaraṇa Pūja

Samvinmayē parē dēvi parāmṛta rucipriyē I anujñām Tripurē dēhi parivārārcanāyamē II

"Āvaraṇam" means a veil. The significance of nāvāvaraṇa puja is the removal of the nine avaraṇas (veils) and attainment of the ecstatic experience of the inner consciousness. Each avaraṇa is headed by a cakrēśvari. A siddhi and a mudrā śakti are also present along with each cakrēśvari. (The śrī yantra should be placed such that the vertex of the last triangle faces the sādhaka). Imagine the Dēvi to face (west) the sādhaka and all the āvaraṇa devatās to face the Dēvi from their positions.

Trailōkya mōhana Cakram

4 - am - ām - sauḥ trailōkya mōhana cakrāya namaḥ (Puṣpāñjali) lakāra - prakṛtika - pṛthivyā tmakasya caturaśrasya prathama rēkhāyām.

The first āvaraṇa trailokya mohaṇa cakra is of the nature of 'la' in the pañcadaśi mantra representing the three worlds.

Along the outermost line of the caturātmakam, which is white in colour starting with the entrance in front of the sādhaka go clockwise and worship the first four siddhis (1, 2, 3, 4) at the right side of the four entrances; then worship the next four (5, 6, 7, 8) siddhis clockwise starting at the vayu corner (left corner at the bottom) and worship the 9, 10 siddhis at the mid - points of the west and nirrti directions and the east and Īsana directions respectively. The siddhis are crimson red in colour holding cintamani, skull, trident and siddanjana.

aṅkuśa mudrām pradarśya I

While doing āyudhārcana, visualize the weapons in the space between the last triangle and the eight cornered figure (aṣṭakoṇa) and worship them. The pañcapuṣpa bāṇas (arrows) represent the five tanmātras. The sugarcane arrow is the mind, the pāśa is attachment and aṅkuśa, krodha or hatred.

Āyudhārcana removes obstacles to realisation of the Ātman, the obstacles being (kaṣaya) confusion which is removed by pāśa - an intense desire to realise Ātman; (laya) sleep, removed by aṅkuśa - an intense dislike for names and forms; (vikṣepa) perturbation removed by dhanus - a mind turned inwards and (rasasvāda) infatuation removed by pañca bāṇas - conquering of the senses and the true nature of the ātma is realised.

Here the upāsana of Devi by a sādhaka has to be detailed. Identifying pūjā with the activities of the sādhaka is called parapūjā. This is mentioned in Saundaryalahari composed by Ādi Śaṅkara about Devi. This is the best form of worship. Worshipping Devi in mantra form is called sadhara puja. When the mind gets single pointed (ekāgra) as a result of sadhara puja, realising internally the form which arises in the citākāśa and getting absorbed in it is called nirādhāra pūjā. Those devotees who read this book with all their heart and soul and worship Devi in their hearts while doing so, will be doing the nirādhāra pūjā.

The pūjās are outlined based on the triguṇas namely satva, rajas and tamas. Keeping the requirements of place, time and method of worship in view, obtaining the required pūjā materials and performing the pūjā on the yantra with mantra according to tantra is sātvika pūjā.

Saḍdarśana puja is to emphasize the truth that Devi the Citsakti is the one who bestows Her grace to the upasakas in the six schools namely Bauddha, Vaidika, Saura, Vaiṣṇava, Śaiva and Śākta.

52. Ṣaḍadhara Puja

Ṣaḍadhara puja is to convey the truth that all devatas are forms of the parasakti and the saktis in the six cakras namely Sakini Kakini, Lakini, Rakiṇi, Ḍakini, Hakini represent Gaṇa natha (Gaṇesa), Brahma, Viṣṇu, Rudra, Jiva and Paramatma.

53. Āmnāya Samaṣṭi Pūja

The four amanayas - East, South, West and North are Rk, Yajus, Atharvaṇa and Sama Vedas. The urdhvamnāya is the verbal content of the upaniṣads and the anuttaramnaya their implied sense. Seven crore mantras are contained in these six amanayas. The purpose of amnaya samaṣti puja is to emphasize that all these mantras only dēscribe the citśakti who is not different from Brahman.

Recitation of Śrividyā mantras, worship of a śri cakra or a meruprastara and Lalitā sahasranama arcana are rare and unique privileges. According to Hayagriva, Devi Herself has declared that these are the fruits of enormous amounts of intense penance.

Lalitā sahasranāma is the center piece of Brahmaṇḍa purana and is the quintessence of mantraśastra. The mere chanting of Lalitā sahasranāma with devotion and faith is equivalent to doing a śri yantra puja.

The three bindus are to be imagined in im and contemplated as the face, the breasts and the yoni respectively. Identify yourself with Devi.

63. Homa

Homasya iti kartavyatā pariśiṣte dṛṣtavyā | Homaḥ kṛtākṛtaḥ akaraṇe na pratyavāyaḥ karaṇe tu śreya eva ||

Homa is part of the navāvaraṇa puja. However it is not compulsory. When two people are doing the puja, one person can do the homa while the other does the puja.

The homa kuṇḍa can be established in the north - east direction.

64. Balidāna

To the right of Dēvi draw a maṇḍala consisting of trikoṇa, vṛtta and caturatmaka with matsya mudra.

4 - aim - vyāpaka maṇḍalāya namaḥ

Offer flowers and akṣatas to the maṇḍala. Keep the copper vessel with the naivēdya items in it on the maṇḍala. Fill it with abhiṣeka water.

Recite - three times,

4 - Ōm - hrīm - sarva vighnakṛdbhyaḥ sarva bhūtē bhyō hum phaṭ svāhā ॥

Take an uttaraṇi of water with the right hand; pour the water into the copper vessel such that it falls through a tatva mudra formed with the left hand. Clap three times, and looking up, show baṇa mudra imagining that the bali offered has been accepted by the bhutas. Show yoni mudra. Leave the bali in the south west (direction) corner outside the house. Wash your feet, do acāmana, pradakṣiṇa namaskāra and japa. End the japa reciting,

4 - guhyāti guhya gōptrī tvam grhāṇāsmat krtam japam I siddhirbhavatu mē dēvi tvat prasādān mayi sthirā ॥

65. Suvasini Puja

If the suvasini is uninitiated, she must be given dīkṣā in her left ear with the mantras "Om Hrim" of Bhuvanesvari (3 times) and "aim klim sauḥ" of Bala (3 times) before puja.

Apply turmeric to her feet. Offer Viśeṣarghya reciting,

4 - Alipātram idam tubhyam dīyatē piśitānvitam I svīkṛtya subhagē Dēvi yaśō dēhi ripūn jahi ॥

Show yoni mudra.

Suvasini accepts the viśeṣarghya with her left hand. With her thumb, middle and ring fingers together, she offers drops of it to her Guru (Śiva) on top of her head twice, with the Gurupaduka mantra; drinks half of it, gives the other half to the sadhaka saying the following mantra with yoni mudra, followed by trikhaṇḍa mudra.

4 - Vatsa tubhyam mayā dattam pītaseṣam kulāmṛtam I
Tvat śatrūn Samhariṣyāmi tavābhiṣtam dadāmyaham II

The sādhaka partakes of the left - over viseṣarghya given by the suvāsini and proceeds to worship her with 5 or 16 or 64 upacāras as circumstances permit.

67. Sāmayika pūjā

tataḥ sannihitē gurau gurum natvā gandhakuṅku mādibhi - rupacarya gurupāduka mantrēṇa abhipūjya pātram ṣamarpayēt |

asannihitē gurau svaśiraṣi gurutrayam yajēt | sannihitān sāmayikān gandha kuṅkumādibhirabh yarcya, pātrāṇi dadyāt |

If the guru is present, worship him with guru paduka mantra, pay obeisance to him, and give him viśesārghya. Otherwise offer worship to the three gurus on your own head (śiras). Further, śastras require that other śri vidya upasakas who have had mantropadeśa, but for various reasons do not have the necessary resources to do the pūjā in their houses, should be welcomed and all facilities made available to them to carry out pūjā to Devi.

Lift the Śaṅkha and move it around the Śrī yantra three times and sprinkle water from it on the śrī yantra. The remaining water can be distributed to devotees present, who have had mantrōpadēśa.

Recite,

4 - hṛtpadmakarṇikā - madhyē śivēna saha śaṅkari | praviśa tvam mahādēvi sarvairāvaraṇaiḥ saha ||

and with the trikhaṇḍa mudra get Dēvi back to your heart and mentally do pañcopacāra to Her.

Recite the mūla mantra, lift the viśēṣarghya patra upto the head, and recite guru paduka mantra. Then reciting the mantra "ardram jvalati" visualize a hōma being performed in the flames of kuṇḍalini (citagni). After feeding brahmins and suvasinis, partake of the prasada and dwell in the extreme bliss thereof.

Śrī guru arpaṇamastu | brahmārpaṇamastu |
Śrī Lalitā paramēśvarī arpaṇamastu ||

Iti Śivam

Salutations to the lotus feet of my Guru who in his boundless grace enabled me to perform the Navavaraṇa Pūjā - the mahā-yajna - as laid down in the sutras.

Śrī Cakra pratiṣṭhāpana vidhiḥ

Saṅkalpaḥ Śrī cakra pratiṣṭhāpanam karisye ll

Prepare pañca kavya. Sanctify it by reciting "hauṁ" 108 times. Keep the yantra in it reciting the praṇava mantra. Place the yantra in another vessel. Perform abhiseka with pañcamṛta. Light incense and offer dhūpa. Then perform abhiseka separately with milk etc. Offer lighted incense each time after the abhiseka. Again perform abhiṣeka with a mixture of all the items, that is, pañcamṛta. Then do abhiseka with the kalasa tīrtha which is water consecrated with 108 recitations of the mula mantra and established in the eight directions. The mula mantra should be recited with each abhiseka.

Then wipe the yantra with a clean cloth, place it on a piṭha. Touch it with the tip of kusa grass and recite "aim hrim śrim om yantra rajaya vidmahe mahayantraya dhimahi ll tanno yantraḥ pracodayat", 108 times. Perform bhutasuddhi, and matṛka nyasas. The praṇapratiṣṭha is done touching the yantra with the hand as follows :

Drawing the śrī cakrā

The following method for drawing the śrī cakrā is not a traditional one. It was derived by analyzing an image generated by a computer. The computer rendition is an exact one. Measurements at the intersection of lines show convergences within 0.0000014 inch accuracy. Using the dimensions described will not yield a diagram as exact as that generated by a computer, but the instructions given will create a yantra of any size using as little as a compass and a straight edge and will be surprisingly accurate.

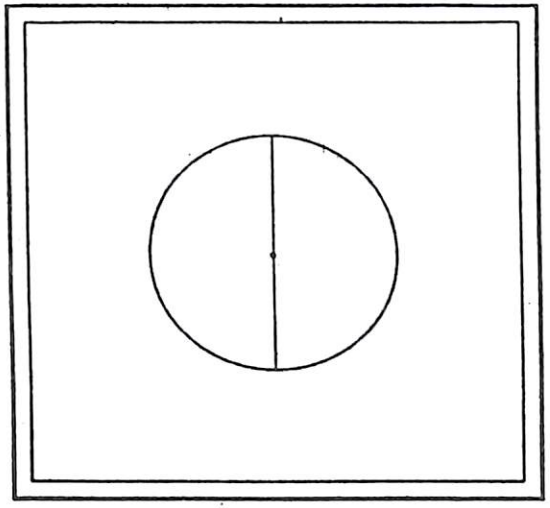

Fig - 1

In the middle of a piece of paper, draw a vertical line 32 units long. The size of the unit used will determine the size of the yantra drawn (hint : your paper should be at least twice the length of your vertical line in height and width. An inch long unit will require a piece of paper 64" square!). Draw this guideline lightly so that it may be erased later. Or, fold the piece of paper in the centre for a guideline. At the center of the line (16 units), draw a small circle BINDÚ with radius, 1l3 unit. Draw a larger, 16 unit radius circle about this center, exactly touching either end of the guideline as shown in Figure 1. All of the triangles subsequently drawn will fit in this outer circle.

From the top of the vertical line, where it meets the circle, mark off the following distances :

3.5 (+) 7.5, 11, 13 (+) 15 18 20.5 (-) 24.5, 28.5 (+). Draw horizontal lines exactly perpendicular to the vertical as shown in Figure 2. Signs in parenthesis (+ - ) indicate whether to place each line slightly above (-) or below (+) the mark. This adjustment is optional. However, it will increase the accuracy of the drawing. The numbers shown in Figure. 2 are to assist in identifying the lines and triangles for which they are the bases. No other meaning is implied. Note that only lines 3 and 7 touch the outer circle.

All of the triangles in the yantra have one of the horizontal lines as a base and vertices at the intersections of other baselines with the vertical center guideline.

Start drawing down - pointing triangle 7 by drawing lines from the lower end of the vertical where it intersects the circle, to opposite ends of line 7 at their points on the circle. Create triangle 3 similarly by drawing lines from the top of the vertical to opposite ends of line 3. Figure 3 shows completed traingles 3 and 7.

Notice the intersections (circled) where diagonal lines cross opposing baseș. Create triangle 8 by drawing a line from the intersection of line 1 with the vertical through each of the intersections and beyond to line 8 and complete the corners. Erase any portion of the lines extending beyond the triangle. Likewise, create triangle 2 by drawing lines from line 9 through intersection on line 3 to line 2. Figure 4. shows completed triangles 7, 3, 8 and 2.

The exact intersection of the lines as they are drawn is critical to the formation of the yantra. The complexity of making 27 lines intersect so precisely in such a balanced and harmonious way is one of the reasons why the Śri

Cakra has been the subject of intense study throughout history.

Locate similar intersections of diagonals with lines 8 and 2. In the same fashion in which triangles 8 and 2 were completed, complete triangles 9 and 1; triangle 9 from line 4 through intersections on line 8 to line 9 and triangle 1 from line 7 through intersections on line 2 to line 1. See Figure. 5.

Figure. 6 shows triangles 6 and 4. Unlike the previous triangles, 6 and 4 are created by drawing lines from the vertical to, not through, intersections of diagonals.

Start by extending lines 6 and 4 to the diagonals of triangles 2 and 8 respectively. Erase any extension of the horizontal beyond the diagonals. Complete triangle 6 by drawing lines from line 2 to end points of line 6 (at the diagonals of triangle 2). Create triangle 4 in the same way; from line 8 draw sides to end points of line 4.

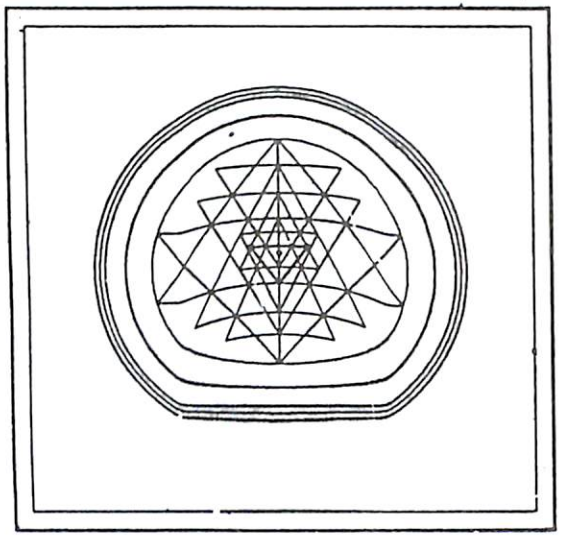

Fig - 8

If drawn correctly, only one line (5), slightly above the BINDU, is left to be completed into a triangle. Check carefully and make adjustments to the other triangles and clean up the drawing before proceeding.

Extend line 5 to the diagonals of triangle 4 and carefully complete the corner, removing any extensions. Complete triangle 5 by drawing lines from line 3 to the end points of line 5 as shown in Figure 7.

The vertical line may now be erased.

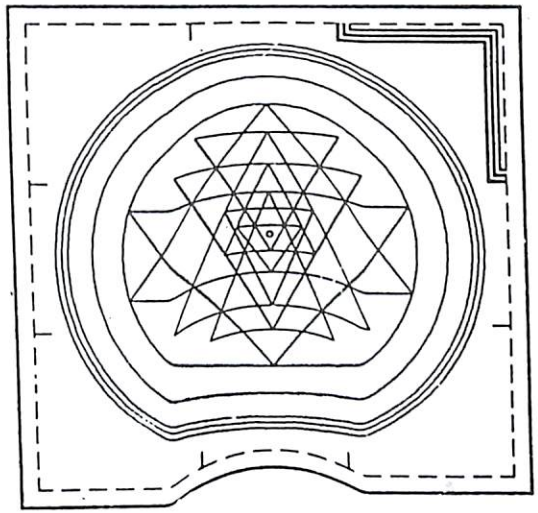

Fig - 9

With the triangles finished, the rest of the diagram can be drawn. Starting at the center of the BINDU, draw concentric circles with radii of 19.5, 22, 22.75, and 23.5 units as shown in Figure 8. Lotus petals will be drawn in the two wider bands closest to the triangles later.

Start drawing the corners by first drawing light lines (dotted in figure. 9) at the top, bottom, and sides each 26 units from the center of the BINDU as shown. This line is the reference for the remaining lines describing the corners and marks the termination of the lines forming the gateways.

Gateway openings are each exactly 16 units wide and centered in the sides. Mark the location of each gateway by drawing short lines from the reference line as shown. Lightly draw two (2) short lines parallel to each gateway line 2/3 unit apart to the corner side of the gateway. Draw three (3) corner lines 2/3 unit in from the reference line at all four corners. Complete the corners by forming intersections of short gateway lines and long corner lines so that the parallel lines appear to be stacked on one another as shown in Figure. 9.

If drawn correctly, the gateways will line up directly across from one another and will each have openings 16 units wide. Each long line segment will also be 16 units long. The lines will be parallel and equally spaced short line to short line and long line to long line. The effect should be one of stacked corners radiating away from the center.

Different traditional and drawing methods will show the lotus petals as circular arcs or petal forms of various shapes. The drawing of the petals is the most difficult and arduous task. The petals shown here (fig. 11) were generated by computer with the ability to fit smooth curves exactly around a radius. However, the shape of the petal was determined by the operator's eye; the feel and balance of the curve are as important as the precision of its placement.

Strive for smooth curves of full, round shape. Use a french curve or curved edge if possible. It is recommended that one full petal be drawn and adjusted until it appears satisfactory. Then by cutting a template from stiff paper or drawing a pattern to trace, one may transfer the original design around the circle.

Begin by subdividing the circular bands equally. The innermost band must be divided into 16 equal parts and the outer 32. If a protractor is used, each angle of subdivision for the inner ring is 22.5 degrees. For the larger ring it is 11.25 degrees. Each division is 1/2 a petal.

If a protractor is not available the task is more difficult. Figure. 12 shows a method of bisecting angles using only a compass.

Begin by making 90 degree angles with the vertical reference and a horizontal exactly perpendicular to it intersecting it at the center of the BINDU. Bisect this angle into 45 degree angles by drawing lines from the center to each corner (dotted in Figure. 12). Draw each line lightly so that it may be erased. It is not necessary to extend lines through the triangles or beyond the work area. Using a compass, begin striking arcs to form intersections. Use any of the circles drawn or draw a larger circle outside. From the points where this circle intersects the angles draw short arcs of equal radius. The radius is not important as long as the arcs cross somewhere in the angle. Where this crossing occurs is the bisecting point of the angle. Drawing a line from the center through this point bisects the angle. By bisecting the 45 degree angles once and once again in this fashion, 32 equal subvisions will be made.

Biographical Sketches

Śrī - la - Śrī Kalyāṇānanda Bhārati

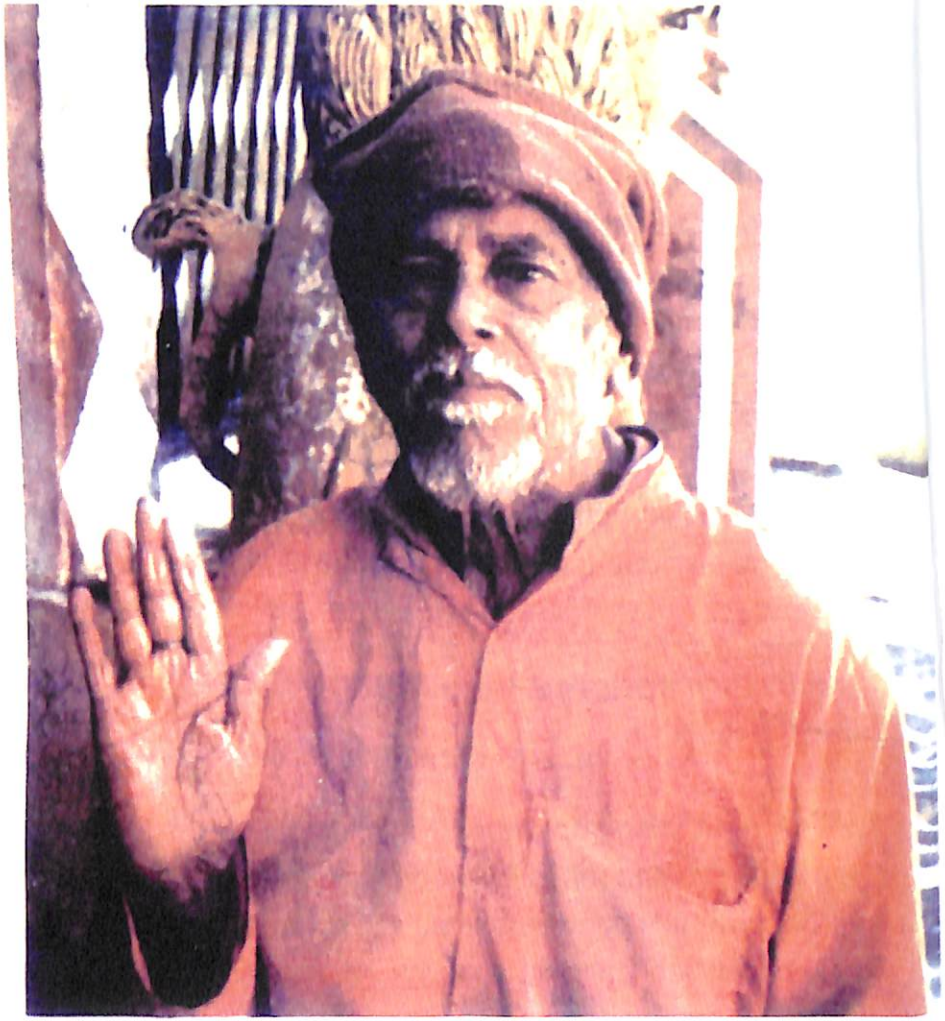
Śri Kalyāṇānanda Bharati, originally from Andhra pradesh, was initiated about 40 years ago by his guru śri Rajrājeśvarānandā. He settled down in Haridwar, on the banks of the Ganges. When he had the installation of the Bhadrakāli pīṭham, on the banks of the sapta ṛṣi sarōvar in Haridwar, his guru came down from the Himalayas to be with him for the consecration of the murthi.



Śrī Kalyāṇānanda Bhārati

In the year 1980, Śrī Svaprakāśānanda met Śri Kalyāṇānanda Bhārati and was accepted by him as his disciple. Śri Kalyāṇānanda Bhārati first gave him sanyasa dīkṣā, and after a few years his blessings to enter the avadhūta āshram.

Śrī - la - Śrī Svaprakāśānandā

Swami Svaprakāśānanda Tirtha Avadhuta, or Gurugaru as he is dearly known among his devotees, is of the Dattātrēya Sampradaya. Born in Vidurparthi in 1915, a small village in present Andhra Pradesh, Gurugaru spent a relatively uneventful childhood. Having received little or no formal education, Gurugaru's high proficiency in Sanskrit and the Vedas may be attributed to Divine Grace alone.

When Gurugaru was about 20 years old, he made his first of many contacts with the great sages of India. He was initiated into spiritual discipline by a sanyasin of the name Poornananda Yogi. The sanyasin was himself a disciple of Maru Maharshi of Tibet.

At 25, Gurugaru received his first initiation into Śrī Vidyā, the royal path to salvation, which he still practises to this day. Kesari Kameshwar Rao, a follower of the Madhvacharya sampradaya, was his Guru. Gurugaru built upon this spiritual treasure of Sri Vidya Mantras for several years. At 32, he received the Maha Vidya of Sri Rajarajeshwari, Vana Durga, and the Sapta sati Chandi. Subsequently, Gurugaru received the poorna diksha from Gnananada Saraswati, a grhasta from Anakapalle.

Gurugaru travelled through the length and breadth of India in his pursuit of spiritual knowledge. At 40, he was learning the principles of the 64 Tantras in Orissa and Rajamundri. At 43, he received the upadeśa of the 7 crore mantras from 18 pīthās. He spent time in Varanasi, delving deep into the "moolam" (root) of the mantras.

Dakshinamoorthy Paramahamsa of Lalithanagar, Vishakhapatnam was one more of the several renowned teachers who blessed him on his spiritual path. None of what he learnt was ever written down; he mastered all that he was taught by means of singleminded application and incessant practice. Gurugaru was already in possession of all siddhis and at 55, by the Divine grace of Mother Chintamani Maha vidyeśvari became proficient in the vedas when his upasana culminated in a vision of the Devi.

Śrī Amṛtānandā Śrī Svaprakāśānandā Śrī Caitanyānandā

At 65, Sri Svaprakasananda met his final guru Kalyananada Tirtha Maharaj of the Bhadrakali Mahapeetam at the banks of the saptarishi sarovar, Haridwar who gave him sanyasa diksha. Six years later, he entered the avadhuta ashrama with the blessing of his guru.

Gurugaru is at present living in Anakapalle near Visakhapatnam. Besides the teachers in human form, Gurugaru has a mentor in the astral planes as well. The akhanda siddha Babaji, supposed to be 15,000 years old has been his guide all along.

Śrī - Ia - Śri Amṛtānandanātha Sarasvati

In Vizag in a brahmin family, Sri Prahlada Sastry was born as the eldest son, to Sri Narasimha Rao and Lakshmi Narasamma. Between the ages of 5 and 11 he had many spiritual experiences and asked many questions about spiritual topics that he could not find the answers to. As he became older he concentrated more on his study of science. He did research in Andhra University in nuclear physics, getting his M.Sc. and then went to Bombay for a job. There he worked as a scientist in the Tata Institute of Fundamental Research. He took his Doctorate in Solid State Physics from Bombay University. He worked in Bombay for 23 years, doing all kinds of research in Physics and its applications. During the final years at TIFR, Dr. Sastry had to be involved in certain aspects of scientific utilization which were more useful for destruction than for construction. For Dr. Sastry, who was interested in knowing about the Self, it was completely a negative kind of a feeling towards such research.

In 1977, Dr. Sastry had a divine inspiration in Hyderabad from Balaji, Balatripurasundari, at the Balaji Temple. Then and there he decided that whatever life was left in him he should utilize for the welfare of everyone, and definitely not for destruction. This initiation was later formalized when Dr. Sastry met Swami Svaprakasananda Avadhuta and took Srividya Purna Diksha from him in Anakapalle. From that time onwards, Amrtananda was his Diksha name, the name given him during initiation. Later on Goddess Saraswati, who was his spiritual guru, gave him the name Amṛtananda Saraswati.

Sri Amrtananda continued for some time at TIFR, but his conscience made him continually question whether his work in the defence research ought to be continued. He began to turn from a search for truth in the external direction to search for truth in an inward direction.

At that time he was offered an opportunity to teach physics for 2 years in Zambia, Africa, at the University of Lusaka. So he bid goodbye to 25 years of scientific life and took advantage of the offer and moved to Lusaka. It was at this time that Sri Amṛtananda met Sri Wijayaharan, who became his 'spiritual son' and disciple in Sri Vidya Upasana.

Sri Amṛtananda returned to India in 1981. He resigned his job at TIFR, Bombay and moved back to Visakhapatnam to serve Devi and to do his best to establish the consciousness of Devi in everyone and to work for the upliftment of all people.

In 1983, Sri Amṛtananda did a major Yajna with 108 Ritviks for 16 days in Visakhapatnam, performed by Sri Vemakoti krishnayaji. It was a Devi Yagam. During this Yaga the Putrevu brothers donated 3 acres of garden for building a temple for Devi. Next to these 3 acres, Sri Amrtananda purchased 10 acres of land with his own money and registered it in the name of Devi. He used to come there every week looking for any strong indication that this was indeed the place intended for Devi worship.

The place was full of cashew nut plantations. There was no water anywhere. Close to the place given as a donation, there was a small hill. On the slope of the hill Sri Amṛtananda discovered a place which was very similar to the Kamakhya Peetham in Assam. This formation is held sacred by Saktas as a symbol of the abundant procreative power of the Divine Mother.

He used to sit and meditate on this rock formation often. During one meditation he had a vision. He was lying flat in the triangular depression of the yoni looking up. Flames were issuing from his body. He saw four Ritviks offering oblations into the flames, chanting mantras from Sama Veda. At the Purnahuti he felt a heavy object the size of a fist being placed in his heart. He woke up from the trance and dug up the place to discover a Sri Chakra Meru made of Panchaloha, bearing burn marks due to the heat of the fire. On enquiry, it turned out that a major Yaga did occur 250 years ago at the same place.

During another occasion Sri Amṛtananda saw the Devi as a devastatingly beautiful girl of 16 years old. He received Her blessings to build a Kamakhya Peetham on this hill site, and the Meru Nilayam on the donated site nearby. At the top of the hill he built a Siva temple as protector of the place and to also afford some measure of visibility from the road. The Kamakhya peetham and the siva temple were consecrated in 1984.

In 1985, he started building the Sri Meru Nilayam on the land that was donated. The Sri Meru Nilayam is the only temple of its kind in India or elsewhere that is built as an exact geometrical representation of the Sri Chakra Meru in a three dimensional form. It measures 108 ft. on ground and it rises majestically to a height of 54ft. in three stories.

The uniqueness of the Meru Nilayam is that devotees can walk around and into it and witness all the forms of the Devi mentioned in the Sri Devi Khadgamala Stotram. In addition, the devotees themselves may do puja to these Devis and Yoginis, irrespective of caste, colour, creed, religion or sex.

These forms have never been carved before and are exquisite representations of the Sristi, Sthiti and Laya manifestations of the Sri Chakra. They portray the many aspects and properties of Mother as she manifests in the universe, all in natural form, ready to free devotees from the bonds of lower passions, grant them all desires, and carry them to her transcendent states of samadhi.

The temple was completed in 1994 and the consecration ceremony was witnessed by thousands of devotees.

Guruji has many loving disciples in USA, Canada, India and other countries. He is at present engaged in the service to the rural poor in and around Devipuram. Guruji and his wife Srimati Annapurṇamba are devoting their entire attention to activities for the upliftment of the rural poor. For this purpose they have founded the Sri Vidya Trust.

Śrī - la - Śrī Caitanyānandā (Haranji)

Caitanyananda (Haran) is the youngest of nine children of Sinniahpillai Navaratnam and Kamalambal. In his father's family the Devi has been worshipped for 6 generations. His family was shaken up by the death of his father's only sister in 1918 and they all but abandoned this long worship. When Haran was 10 years old his father, in the course of relating some old family stories, told of this worship that was abandoned by his father. The little ten year old boy decided that when he was of age he would try to revive this tradition. Once the seed of this desire was in him, the Devi set things in motion. After his education at the prestigious Jaffna college, an institution that produced giants like Ananda Kumaraswamy, Carol Vishwanatha Pillai, Justice Sriskandarajah and others, he was formally initiated into the sadakshara mantra by Her Holiness the late Swami Shivasachithananda Mataji. This Paramahamsa sanyasi was one of the early and senior disciples of Sri Sivananda Saraswathi of Rishikesh, the Himalayan giant. Under the guidance of Mataji and her senior disciple srimathi Selvanayaki Kalyanasundaram, herself an upasaki, Haran learnt the preliminaries of puja at the Sivananda Tapovanam in Uppuveli, Trincomalee in the famous Sivasthalam of Tiru Koneswaram.

In 1971 after his Architectural Education in the university of Colombo, Haran journeyed to Lusaka, Zambia to serve in the Ministry of Power Transport and Works as a government Architect. Here he continued to perform pujas for the people there and started reciting Sri Lalitha sahasranamam as part of the upacaras in 1976. It is here he met his present day guru Sri Amritananda Saraswathi (Dr. N.P. Sastry) from Andhra. Dr. Sastri was professor of Physics at the University of Zambia. After observing Amritananda performing the Dasa mudras during the recitation of the Sahasranamam one day, Haran asked him for Dhiksha into Sri Vidya. Amritananda not only agreed but came to the Peetham that was already in existence in Haran's residence, on 5th October 1979, a fullmoon day, and performed a Sri Yantra Navavarana puja with Maha Shodasi Nyasam and imparted Sixteen mantras with Bala, Sudha and Sowbhagya panchadasis and Maha shodasi (The entire ceremony lasting over 8 hours) to both Haran and his wife Shakuntala Devi (Gnanamba). He then taught Haran the Navavarana puja and its intricacies according to the Dattatreya tradition.

In 1980 Haran moved to USA from Lusaka and continued with the navavarana puja, slowly attracting like - minded souls to the peetham which was called Kanchi and then Sri Rajarajeswari Peetham. In early 1981 one early morning during puja the Devi appeared and performed poornabhishekam to him naming him Caitanyananda Natha Saraswathi. His life's companion was to be known as Gnanamba. In 1981, during a Navarathri puja on the seventh night She again manifested from the visesharghya and drew a (conch) shanku on his right palm and instructed him to write an elaborate puja paddati for the Navavarana puja. He proceeded to do just that for the next year. Every waking minute was consumed with this task which was the fore runner to this book. It was offered to the Devi during Sarada Navaratri of 1985. Realizing that many South Indians and Srilankans have no knowledge of Sanskrit. Caithanyananda wanted the annotations and correct pronunciations incorporated into the paddati. He enlisted the help of Srimathi Gnanapurani Madhvanath who had a good knowledge of Sanskrit and Tamil to overhaul, reedit and recast the first edition in to a second more elaborate edition. This is the result of that dedicated effort on her part. She has been assisted in this noble effort by her husband Udupi Sri Madhvanath, her son Sri Ganesh, Sri Kartik, Sri Don McKenna, Sri Vissudavatar Baba (Bill Thomas), Sri Rangaraj Setlur and Sri Sathiananda (Venu) and other devotees.

Caitanyananda continues with the great tradition from the Sri Rajarajeswari Peetham. From the Sri Rajarajeswari Peetham over ninety two other peethams have been born across the USA, Canada, England and India. An elaborate library with close to 15,000 volumes in 7 languages has grown in the peetham to further spread the vidya among the people. For the last 15 years he has been travelling to various places practically every weekend and during the week when he is not working, to perform samsakaras or perform pujas.

Caitanyananda has evolved a unique style incorporating the great traditions of the 63 Tamil saints and the rich Bhakti literature in some of their works. He has worked the soul stirring compositions of these saints into the fabric of Sri Vidya in the Agamic and Siddhanta traditions. Many of the pujas are interwoven with the melting sounds of Thevaram, Thiruvachakam and other Saivaite works. This is in keeping with the rich saivaite learnings of the Yalpana Tamils. Around the peetham directly as a result of this aspect a unique and rich Bhajan paddati has also evolved, which draws from Sanskrit and Tamil works, slowly drawing young and upcoming artists from the community who are fascinated by the blending of the vedic and non vedic, rural and sophisticated traditions in song.
